They are two brothers of 15 and 17 years old. Their names are Pietro and Francesco. They had a simple and great idea (it would be better to say brilliant): to fight early school leaving in lower secondary school for the 'fault' of mathematics through extra-curricular mathematical enhancement activities also for girls and boys who live difficult realities. But be careful: the pilot project is already all funded, they do not ask for money, they have already brilliantly collected it with a gofundme and already have a configured structure. The details are available at the link below. Pietro and Francesco want their initiative to continue beyond the pilot, to be known and to 'industrialize' it. They do not want anything for them, they will not participate in any current and future economic return. They will continue their student careers. Their request to publicize the initiative honored and moved me, as did their idea. Young people helping young people. Here is the #futuro of #esg #scuola #giovani #italiano #people #mathematics #school
